

BANK THUGS TRACKED TO W. OAKLAND

Policeman Finds Abandoned Machine at Campbell and Chase Streets; Men Are Believed Hiding in City

Wounded Official Expected to Recover; Check Shows the Loot Totals $20,000 in Currency, Cashier Asserts

There were made public today
three developments in the man hunt that has followed the robbery of the Alameda County Bank at Alvarado, yesterday noon.

The first was the discovery at 4:15
p. m. of the automobile in which the three bandits made away from San Lorenzo after ditching the big green car in which they roared out of Alvarado.

The second was questioning of John Sullivan, who says the big green car was stolen from him, and who has been detained in the Alameda county jail.

The third, which was a result of the first, was a conference between Sheriff Frank Burnett and Ezra Decoto, district attorney, who is a brother-in-law of August May, a wounded president of the bank, following which a police net began to tighten on West Oakland, where the car was discovered.

MACHINE FOUND NEAR RESORTS
Patrolman George Garcia found the car, a roadster, at Chase and Campbell streets, near Seventh street, where it had been abandoned. Its presence in the district where District Attorney Decoto recently conducted his investigation of resorts was declared significant.

In the meantime, May lay at Merritt Hospital under the care of Dr.
Charles Coleman, and hope grew that he might recover from wounds in the neck and chest which at first seemed certainly fatal. The hope grew from the rallying power of the injured man who passed a good night. The fight for his life, it appeared today,
would be one of many days in duration.

As the only man thus far detained,
interest centered in Sullivan. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon he telephoned to his home and returned at 5 p. m. and was taken to the hospital.
He was told to report in person and did. When it developed that the car was the same as that used by the four Alvarado
robbers, he was further questioned.
Sullivan, who is a San Francisco agent named Shadburn, his home address he refused.

His story was that he left his car parked at the postoffice in San Francisco at 9 a. m. and returned at 2
p. m. to find it gone. He said a shotgun found in the car belonged to him, as he had planned a hunting trip.

Attempts to interview him met such rebuff as:
"You can't talk to me. Nobody can talk to me. I am being persecuted.
You are not talking to a sucker. Get away from me or I'll punch you in the nose."

Asked why, if innocent, he refused
his home address, he said:
"That's some more of my business.
Get out of here. Sheriff Barnett proposes to take me to Alvarado to meet the clerks who were victims of the robbery."

Aside from the employees of the bank and Marshall Matzo, a customer, the chief witness was Albert Lawrence of Hayward, an employee of a San Francisco commission house.

MOTORIST FORCED TO GIVE UP CAR
Lawrence drove toward the San Leandro-Hayward highway on the new road from San Lorenzo the big green car shrieked to a standstill beside the road, the door men climbed out, then stopped him with littered revolvers, and then transferred a sack to Lawrence's machine, a roadster. In a moment more the big green car was pushed into a ditch and the road into a sulley, where it was damaged.

The bandits fled while Lawrence commandeered a car and tried to follow, but was distanced.
Clarification of the confused statements regarding the robbery, arising in the fright of the victims and the shooting of President May followed investigation by bank directors who were recalled after the robbery. The robbers drove to the tavern kept by Otto Herch, opposite the bank about twenty minutes before the robbery. Three went into the bar. One of the three stood by window, two played at a game of chance.

LAWYERS IN HOT TILT IN WATER SUIT

Stanley Moore Says Antioch
'Hog Tied' to Induce Land Owners in Delta to Join in Fight Against the Rice Men

B. D. M. Greene in Reply
Hints at Pointed Queries to Be Put to Other Side; Town
Trustee Tells of Situation

All of that rivalry, determination and realization of the large issues at stake in the suit of the town of Antioch
for a temporary injunction against up-river diversions broke out in the hearing today before Supreme Judge A. F. S. Sore.

Before the flurry had subsided Attorney B. D. M. Greene, for Antioch, intimated that he had several pertinent and emphatic things to say to Stanley Moore, attorney for the rice men; Greene was put on the stand and asked concerning his connection with one of the delta land companies, and the charge was made that the town of Antioch was being "hog-tied" in the interest of individuals who did not see fit to bring the action.

A statement by F. Taylor, town trustee for Antioch and chairman of the water committee there, that even if Antioch won its suit he believed it was necessary for the town to arrange for a new water supply, was brought out under cross-examination by Attorney Moore, and the admission was made by Greene that he intended to summon as defendants all of the other land owners of the delta.

ANTIOCH TRUSTEE TALKS ON WATER
Taylor was asked whether or not in his opinion it would be necessary for Antioch to get some other water supply, whether the town won or lost its suit and replied:
"Yes, I think it will."

"What the beating of a tom-tom,"
said Moore in an exchange that followed, "with the circularizing of the delta, and with using Antioch as a hog-tie to get the landowners to intervene, today there are but twenty defendants in the suit, and if they won't come in you will serve them as defendants."

Greene retorted that he had not served them as yet but that he was going to.

Taylor testified that at one time
he owned some land on the San Joaquin one mile above Antioch and that he had been asked to join in the project for a dam at Elk Meadows on the Feather river, he became convinced that the water flow of the river would be cut off and that he sought, and in consequence he sold his holdings.

When Greene was put on the stand Moore put one question after another, until he had reached the point and not allowed Moore asked if Green incorporated the Rivers Land Association, if he circularized all of the delta farmers, if he was receiving any compensation from some of the land owners, and if he was really not supporting this action for an injunction,
he expected any such compensation,
and the names of the men in the Delta Farms company. While objections to all were sustained, Moore asked if he was receiving compensation with a statement that he was not being paid by anyone except Antioch.

CIRCULARS ARE SENT TO OWNERS
"I would like to show," said
Moore in arguing against the objections to his questions, "something of the circularizing of the delta. Our claim is that Antioch is not a voluntary action, but really not supporting this action for an injunction. It so happens that the law allows a municipality to file such an application without giving bond, but it also says that the court must be satisfied
of the circumstances of the application."

"If the actors or some others who would otherwise be requested to give bond but who are seeking through the action to get the water, they would not do directly. It is a circumstance, I believe, for the consideration of this court."

"We propose to show that the law is not violated by the releasing statements and that the delta men were told that it was necessary for them to join in the litigation or else lose their riparian rights, when the law is that a person exercising riparian rights does not need to engage in litigation."

Judge St. Sore interrupted Moore
at this point to ask him whether or not it was true that Antioch entered the action to get the water, and he answered in the affirmative. When the court sustained the objection and Greene was excused from answering the questions regarding the circulars.
When Greene was asked regarding his intentions to bring in as defendants other farmers, the court pointed out that the answer was already in the record.

NOTHING TO SAY NOW, GREEN TELLS COURT
"I shut you off yesterday in a similar discussion," said the judge to Greene, "and will say that if you have anything you want to say now,
you have reflected a moment and then with deliberation remarked:
"I have nothing to say that I would wish to go on the record but have a number of things I would like to say to Mr. Moore."

The Antioch case is one in which there are no decisions by the California Supreme Court and which concerns the riparian rights and appropriation rights of the town of Antioch to water on the river. In its results it is expected to be one of the most far-reaching decisions in the history of the state.

The report of John W. Meredith, town engineer of Antioch, recommending a reservoir system to store
water in the spring for summer use,
and a continuation of the argument of Attorney A. E. Chandler, who is quoting decisions and submitting evidence to show Antioch's position in regard to riparian rights on the San Joaquin, were other matters to occupy today's hearings.

Two Expeditions Now Hunt- ing and Photographing in Wilds for Oakland Museum, According to the Curator

Two separate hunting parties, instead of the one that started out,
are beating the jungles of Africa
for specimens for the Oakland museum. Two leaders are directing native beaters and carriers, and between the rival camps has developed a competition born of bitterness and dissension.

Word that the Simpson Snow expedition has split over a difference of opinion as to leadership, and that Leslie Simpson is now directing one party while H. A. Snow is leader of another, became known today.

SPLIT COMES WHEN LEADERS HAVE TIFF
The split occurred some two months ago when the hunters were together in Bechuanaland. It developed that Simpson objected to any specimen hunting by Snow, the Newark naturalist, and insisted that Snow and his party confine themselves exclusively to photography,
as was originally planned.

When the two parties decided to go separate ways Simpson took his troop of native hunters and went into British East Africa. Snow, with his son Sydney Snow, and a staff of hunters and photographers, have been both hunting and photographing.

Word of the differences between the two units of the expedition is contained in a letter received recently by Curator John Rowley of the museum from Simpson. It is understood that Simpson demanded that Snow leave the museum and that the work of the expedition be done exclusively by Simpson, while Snow did nothing but supervise
the photographic work.

SNOW WANTED TO SHOOT BIG GAME, TOO
But Snow is quite a hunter himself and he is not satisfied with the big game which Simpson has been ever, was obdurate. So was Snow, and the misunderstanding grew.

While it is understood that the division is a permanent one and that the work of the expedition will now be done by Simpson, it is understood that both parties would continue to collect and ship to the Oakland museum as was originally planned.

In view of the fact that a bond election for the proposed new museum is not being called by the city council for the same date as the primary, it is probable that Rowley is waiting the African museum building will be completed, and that he will personally
rather than to the museum.

The collections of both parties were only to go to the museum on the day after the primary, but it is understood that Simpson built a museum building for them. Here it is said, another division between the rival hunters is impending.
Simpson is in favor of giving his collections to the museum, while Snow wants to keep them.

SNOW TO HUNT OVER SIMPSON'S PRESENT TRAIL
Snow and his party will shortly go up into British East Africa, the same territory in which Simpson is now hunting, but they are not expected to join hands again.

That the disagreement which led to the breaking of the expedition has been a long-standing one between Snow and Simpson was admitted today by Rowley, who said that the Snow party was formed in 1917, when Simpson was in Africa.
Snow wrote and urged that Snow bring to him all the specimens he collected.

Snow brought along hunting material, and was, being an enthusiastic hunter, and this is believed to have started the friction between the two men which now has divided the expedition.

LIQUOR WITHDRAWALS FROM U. S. WAREHOUSES FIGURE IN BOOZE PROBE

All Who Received Permits in the Last Two Months Are to Be Interviewed by the Investigators

THREE INDICTMENTS EXPECTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—All persons who have withdrawn liquor from government bonded warehouses within the past two months will be summoned to be interviewed by United States Attorney Frank M. Silva in connection with the government investigation into ramifications of San Francisco's so-called "booze" ring, it was announced this afternoon by the government.

Among those who will be questioned concerning the withdrawal of liquor from bonded warehouses on permits issued by Mrs. Glad Warburton are John Hoyle, hotel proprietor, former warden of San Quentin prison, and Hector McKenzie, former mining man and at present engaged in the brokerage business.

Coincident with this announcement Silva stated that William A.
Kelly, internal revenue collector for Nevada, and former prohibition enforcement supervisor, has been assigned to the liquor investigation.
Kelly's appointment is deemed to be particularly significant, and indicates the extent to which the government is prepared to conduct its survey of the alleged liquor ring. Kelly's appointment has not been brought about because of any particular knowledge he may possess of the liquor situation, but because of what he has accomplished while supervising different investigations conducted by the government. He will co-operate with Samuel S. Tuttle, field agent of the prohibition enforcement administration, in getting up a mass of information now in the possession of the government.

THREE INDICTMENTS EXPECTED TOMORROW
The federal grand jury was in session today and it is expected that three indictments will be returned by that body when they reconvened tomorrow. The first matters taken under consideration, it is said, are the cases of Charles B. Daniels and Charles Callaghan, who are at liberty on $10,000 bond under charges of attempting to bribe a federal prohibition enforcement officer for the illegal release of 8100 gallons of whisky from a government bonded warehouse.

The alleged affiliation between
Mrs. Glad Kimball Warburton and Harry Brodsky, one of the principals in the booze investigation, today was taken cognizance of by the government. Investigation is being made into reports that Brodsky was aware before the federal authorities were that Mrs. Warburton was returning to San Francisco.

Developments in the investigation of the alleged "bootleggers" ring assumed melodramatic proportions
today, and piled real and stage
thrills on top of the headlines. First there was Justice S. Wardell, collector of internal revenue, who has appeared at the climactic
moment with the missing papers;
then there was a raid on the headquarters of the ring, where the government is looking for the under-arrest for an attempt at bribery;
and finally, there are center-stage
declarations by John L. Considine, assistant secretary of the treasury,
that the government is going right ahead with this investigation.

Most of the activity in the various offices of federal officials and in the camps of the suspects
of being close to the alleged "booze ring" has been caused by the statements of Mrs. Glad Kimball Warburton, recent acting prohibition enforcement officer, who is on parole from the federal penitentiary after serving a term for the withdrawal of whisky from warehouse.

WARDWELL SAYS HE HAS PERMITS LOCKED UP
"These permits," said Wardell,
"are in my possession, locked up in the vaults of my office, where they will remain until the United States attorney general orders them in the course of proceedings now under way and to present me charged with being in this conspiracy."

Wardell, in a long statement,
said that he held up permits almost as fast as they were issued from Mrs. Warburton's office, that he realizes that this might have been out of the definite line of his duty, but that he recognized the moral obligation.

"Let me say," he continued,
"without divulging any information
which will be used by the government in its prosecution, that I have no knowledge of so-called "leasing" permits other than those permits which I arbitrarily held up."

In the Shadman matter, one of the cases concerning which Mrs.
Warburton asked for information,
Wardell says he held up the permit because he did not wish to take a moral risk. Shadman, he said, was an informant at the time for alleged violation of the narcotic laws.

CONSIDINE MAKES VEMMENT DENIAL
John L. Considine, the one who was named to take Mrs. Warbur-ton's place when she was removed,
has denied with vehemence that he has any knowledge of the matter.

HARDING PLEASED BY RECEPTION IN TENNESSEE TOUR

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 14.—Well pleased with his reception in this strongly Democratic state, Senator Warren G. Harding left Tennessee today, striking northward into Kentucky on the second lap of his hurried invasion of the political border states. Senator Harding left Tennessee with the assurance of state Republican leaders that he has a good fighting chance of carrying the state this year. These assurances, however, are characterized by Democrats, many of whom attended Senator Harding's meeting here last night, as absurd. They declare that the normal Democratic majority of from 25,000 to 35,000 will be doubled this year with the advent of the woman vote.

The Harding special pulled out of Chattanooga early today after staying in the railroad yards over night. Six speeches were scheduled for the Republican candidate en route to Louisville, where the senator tonight will deliver his principal speech of the day. The first scheduled stop was at Oakdale and after that Danville, Somerset, Harrodsburg, Lawrenceburg and Shelbyville.

Senator Harding's party was joined here by Senator Harry S. New of Indiana, chairman of the Republican speakers' bureau, and Jos. B. Keating, national committeeman from Indiana. The senator will cross the Ohio river tomorrow morning for a dozen speeches in Indiana and will speak in Indianapolis tonight. Senator New said that Harding will not speak in New York City although it is now planned to fill an engagement in Rochester on October 30, and in Buffalo on October 31.

Political Notes

Under the direction of the Republican state central committee Mrs. Raymond Robins of Chicago will speak in the Republican Auditorium, 413 Thirteenth street, Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Arrangements for the meeting were completed by the campaign committee last night. The vice-presidents will be the women members of the state committee for Alameda county. The women members of the county central committee and the women officers of Hardin-Coolidge clubs throughout the county.

Friday evening at the Republican headquarters, 415 Thirteenth street, the women members of the state central committee from this county will hold a conference for the purpose of unifying the efforts of women to bring about the greatest possible amount of success in November. The conference also will be attended by the executive committee of the county central committee. State members for this county are Mrs. J. E. Hume, Miss Blanche Morse, Mrs. C. S. Chamberlain, Mrs. E. C. Young, Mrs. H. J. Platt, Mrs. A. T. Kulas, Mrs. A. W. Foshay.

At Laborers' Rest hall in West Oakland last night the Waterfront Republican Club held a well-attended meeting. The chief speaker was Joseph T. Fowler, state representative of the Progressive party. He strongly endorsed the Harding-Coolidge ticket and spoke at length on the folly of electing a Republican President and failing to give him a strong Republican majority in the United States Senate. The officers of the club are: Joseph Gordon, president; A. Bell, secretary; T. Hooper, treasurer; A. Jones, chairman of executive committee.

RAIL SHORTEMEN STRIKE
HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 14.—Fifteen hundred employees of the Houston & Texas Central and Southern Pacific lines shops here were today on strike. They declared they would not return to work until railroad officials subjected to the proper investigation four negroes who were reinstated after being discharged for faulty work.

Under Political Spotlight's Eye

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 14.—William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, closed his first day of campaigning here last night. He made half a dozen addresses in Pennsylvania during the day. Tonight McAdoo spoke on the League of Nations.

The speaker said America should not live in complete isolation from the world, adding that in event this nation does not accept the covenant, "we can expect many wars within the next fifty years."

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 14.—Speaking at a political rally here last night under the auspices of the Republican national committee, Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California gave unqualified approval to the position of Senator Harding, the Republican nominee, on the issue of the League of Nations.

FRESNO, Oct. 14.—Declaring that it is the duty of the government to foster co-operative farming enterprises, Samuel M. Shortridge, Republican nominee for United States senator from California, last night severely criticised the Department of Justice in connection with the suit against the California Associated Raisin Company under the Sherman anti-trust act.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14.—The "League of Nations" as he termed it, "is an invitation to us to become the sustaining member in a carpet bag government of the world," Albert J. Beveridge, former United States senator from Indiana, said here last night.

He pleaded for "American nationalism," which, he declared, "does not mean isolation, except political, and that is just the kind of isolation we need most."

CLEVELAND, Oct. 14.—William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, arrived here this morning to deliver four political addresses today and tonight. Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California will address a Republican mass meeting here tonight.

Cox Defies Harding to Debate On League

Directory is Needed, States Postmaster

Asserting that Christmas holidays will see a "congestion unprecedented in the history of Oakland mail" and hinting at hampering of business unless something is not done immediately to make up a new Oakland directory, Postmaster J. J. Rosborough has sent a communication to the City Council asking an appropriation or some like action to start a directory.

The regular directory publishers it is said quit three years ago at a loss. Since then, says Rosborough, the post-office has tried to worry along with its own directory department of a chief and twelve men. Commissioner Edwards observes this is a Federal affair and hardly within the province of the council. The matter was referred to the Mayor.

Stanislaus County Farms and Orchards

$125 to $500 an Acre
As Low as $15 an Acre Down

Map showing the relative positions of our farms and orchards to Modesto, the State Highway and Railroads.

Through the purchase of holdings owned by Eastern heirs to large California estates we are able to offer unimproved and improved land; cultivated and producing farms and orchards—all situated in the heart of the San Joaquin Valley—for tremendous reductions—AT PRICES THAT HAVE NOT PREVAILED FOR YEARS.

These farms and orchards are scattered throughout Stanislaus County and are already planted in or are suitable for: Apricots, peaches, almonds, figs, grapes, melons, alfalfa and dairying. They have been subdivided into tracts of five acres and upward.

California's Greatest Irrigated District—Where the Land Owns the Water.

Think of being able to buy such land as this on terms that make it possible for anyone to own a farm or orchard—as low as $15 an acre down for unimproved land and as low as $100 an acre down for income producing orchards.

All of these farms are from 1½ to 7 miles from Modesto, in either the Modesto or Turlock Irrigation Districts, where absolute water-rights go with the purchase of the land and every farm is under irrigation by gravity—NO PUMPING NECESSARY.

The farms have a large frontage on the State Highway and are close to railroad shipping points.

Make arrangements immediately to see this property. Don't delay. The land is selling rapidly, as we are positively selling at the lowest prices and easiest terms in Stanislaus County.

Anyone desiring to inspect these farms and orchards will be furnished free transportation both ways.

Old age, illness and an admitted lack of funds caused her second husband, Count Magri, himself a dwarf, to offer the tiny furnishings of their home and the gowns and jewels of his wife for sale. He plans to end his days at his birthplace, Bologna, Italy.

TWO HANGED OF TEN DOOMED TO DIE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—The "quality of mercy" that Shakespeare wrote about spoiled the hangman's festival here today. Instead of ten, but two men went to the scaffold in the yard of the county jail this morning.

Of three men who were to be hanged tomorrow, two have won reprieve and only one will expiate his crime.

In all ten men of thirteen who little more than a week ago were waiting to pay the forfeit of "a life for a life" that judges and juries had imposed upon them, have been given another chance. One has won commutation of sentence to life imprisonment; several have been granted new trials and for others the evidence that first found them guilty will be reviewed. All but one, however, still lurk in the shadows of the gallows.

TWO MEN HANGED
But for Frank Campione, a 22-year-old "gangster," and for John Henry Reese, colored, there came no reprieve and early today they walked to the scaffold and paid the death penalty for murder. Throughout the death watch both Campione and Reese clung to the hope of a reprieve but none came.

Dramatic scenes attended the last hours of Campione and Reese. Nicholas Viana, Campione's companion, was to have gone to his death today. In the death cell he sang, in a clear tenor voice, his goodbye to the world. "Miserere," he chanted and the "Tower song" from "Il Trovatore."

As he sang the other prisoners huddled in their cells in awesome silence. While he sang the reprieve came that granted him a stay of sentence to November 19.

Campione, a member of the famous Cardinelli gang of gunmen against which six murders have been charged, was hanged for the slaying of Andrew P. Bowman, owner of a saloon. Reese paid the penalty for slaying his wife in a fit of jealousy. Reese was the first to go to the scaffold, Campione following. Reese protested his innocence to the last. Campione broke down as the noose was slipped around his neck.

Give More Time to Church, Pastor Warns Parents

A protest against the giving of but 24 hours in the school of religion each week featured the address given by Dr. C. D. Bulla of Nashville, Tenn., during the opening session of the Pacific Methodist Conference of the M. E. Church, South, in the Pioneer Memorial Church edifice.

Dr. Bulla expressed the belief that the Sunday school should receive the same attention as that given the average public institution, and issued a solemn warning to parents of the coming generation to more closely observe the rules of the church.

"Protestants give their children only 24 hours a week in the school of religion, and the organization is far from the complete stage that it should be."

"In public schools there is a supervisor for each group of 32 teachers in the Sunday school there is one supervisor for every 2700 teachers."

MUST SAVE CHILDREN
"The church that cannot save its children and young people cannot save the world."

The conference opened its seventh session yesterday morning, with Bishop H. M. DuBose presiding. The divine rendered the first sermon of the day, choosing as his subject the Gospel of Mark.

A business meeting followed, at which the following were elected officers for the ensuing year: Rev. I. P. Shearer, secretary; Rev. D. C. Williams, assistant secretary;

COAL MINERS IN ENGLAND TO QUIT PITS SATURDAY

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The United Kingdom today was faced with perhaps the most ominous industrial crisis in its history, due to the decision of the coal miners to allow the strike notices to become effective Saturday night following their rejection of the compromise offered to their demand for a two shilling per shift increase in wages.

It seemed certain that unless the government or the mine owners conceded the demands of the men or made fresh and attractive offers, more than 800,000 miners would not return to the pits Monday, thereby throwing hundreds of thousands of workers in other industries out of work and causing a critical situation in the economic life of the country.

ARBITRATION PLAN
Official returns from the national miners' ballot concerning the proposal of the owners showed an overwhelming majority for rejection. At this morning's shrouded conference of the miners' delegates, who met to consider the deadlock, a small minority held out for submission of the claims of the men to arbitration, but this was brushed aside.

No sooner had news of the decision of the miners been received in the great steel district of Cleveland, Yorkshire, than the iron and steel manufacturers there began preparations for closing the works. It is expected that if the strike materializes most of the blast and steel furnaces will become idle immediately.

The government while saying little for weeks has been preparing to handle the situation in the event of the strike.

MILLS COLLEGE REGISTERS 13 MONTHS' BABY

From the office of the registrar of Mills College, Miss Louisa P. Johnston, comes the announcement of the registration October 12 of Miss Constance Hagan, 13-months-old daughter of City Attorney Hugh L. Hagan. Mrs. Hagan, the mother of this young applicant, previous to her marriage was for six years a member of Mills College faculty. Miss Hagan has been registered to enter college with the class of 1925. While her parents were signing her application blank the infant cried with small thumb and shed tears, which is a frequent occurrence when students contemplate this temporary separation from their homes and their families. She now holds the record as the youngest entrant registered at Mills College, superceding the 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Youngberg of Oakland, who is registered for 1922. Miss Youngberg will be leaving college the year in which Miss Hagan will become a freshman.

DOUBLE-HEADED SNAKE IS FOND OF MUSHROOMS

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 14.—Hugh G. Gardner, mushroom grower, has a pet which rivals the five-legged calf. It's a two-headed snake which, he suspects, has a fondness for mushrooms. At any rate, he found it in his mushroom beds. But he figures he may have to part with it because of the high cost of living. The blooming thing eats frequently, simultaneously and with equal enjoyment with both heads.

He walked a quarter of a mile to his own home, told his mother what had happened and collapsed. Surgeons found that all the ribs on his right side and his right lung had been blown away.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Oct. 14.—Ten Lopez was held in the Santa Rosa county jail today, charged with kidnapping and robbery as a result of his alleged attempt to stage a wedding on the general lines followed in the days of the Spanish dons.

Do You Wear Artificial Teeth?

If so it will pay you to investigate this invention of Dr. Schaffert's. It has saved the teeth of many in Oakland and made good. Here are the advantages.

There is no pain over the entire roof of the mouth; has three sections instead of one; improves speech and taste; cool to mouth. This plate prevents a flat hard mouth to fit in years to come, such as you will have with a cheap inferior old style plate. Look to your future. Don't pick the cheapest plate you can find. It don't pay. It is not cheap or expensive. All kinds of plates made, but nothing less than $20.00. You will wear my teeth for years. It makes no difference if you have any teeth of your own or not.

PLANES TO CARRY NORTHWEST MAIL

SEATTLE, Oct. 14.—Chies at two corners of the continent, Seattle and Key West, will launch the nation's first regular international mail service tomorrow. It was announced here recently. In the Seattle service, an airplane will leave here for Victoria, B. C., with mail for a Canadian liner leaving for points across the Pacific, and at Key West a plane will hop off with letters for Cuba.

One day at least will be saved if the airplane will operate on a schedule calling for one hour in flying between the two points.

Edward Hubbard, Seattle flier, has been awarded the government contract for carrying the mails. It will be his duty to take letter mail, up to 800 pounds, from incoming ships docking at Victoria and fly with it to Seattle at once. He also will deliver aboard the vessel at Victoria, at the last possible moment, 600 pounds of letter mail for the Orient and Australia. Hubbard's contract calls for ten trips a month. For his service, Hubbard will receive $200 each trip or $2,000 monthly. His contract runs until June 1, 1921.

THINKS IT DUTY TO TELL PUBLIC SAYS MRS. SHARP

"Tania has done both my husband and myself a world of good, and I take it as my duty as well as my pleasure to tell the public what a fine medicine we have found it to be," was the statement of Mrs. Nancy Sharp, wife of J. W. Sharp, proprietor of the Merchants' Express Co., and herself a prominent member of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Grand Army of the Republic, residing at 921 Camulus street, Los Angeles, California.

"I tried several different medicines, but I could not help noticing my improvement. I too, began taking it in one more effort to get relief and before I had finished the second bottle I knew it had real merit, as I had improved greatly."

"I've taken six bottles and am a changed woman. The stomach distress is gone, and with it my nervousness. My appetite is first-class. I enjoy my meals as everything I eat tastes good and my sleep is sound and refreshing."

"In fact, I am now enjoying splendid health and Tania deserves all the praise it is a grand medicine and I am glad to make this statement of the good it has done us."

Tania is sold in San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley by The Owl Drug Company's stores and Eberly's Quality Pharmacy, Alameda.—Advertisement.

Lenine Calls Soviet Russia Europe's One Solvent Nation

Frank Admission of Need of U. S. Goods Is Made

By LOUISE BRYANT, Special Correspondent of International News Service.

MOSCOW (via wireless to Berlin), Oct. 13 (night).—Nicolai Lenine to-day gave an exclusive interview to the International News Service.

He received the correspondent in a large, plain office in the former law courts building, now the headquarters of the council of people's commissars. There was an absence of all guards and all ceremony. Lenine was dressed like a conventional man of affairs. He was extremely cordial, and his conversation was unreservedly frank. He was curious, asking innumerable shrewd questions which showed an extraordinary knowledge of American politics. On Lenine's desk was a copy of an American newspaper describing the Farmer-Labor party convention.

"This is a most important and interesting development," said Lenine, glancing at the newspaper. "I suppose the reactionaries call these fellows Bolsheviks."

Lenine laughed and added, "What are these forty-eighters? Aren't they American Fabians?"

NEED AMERICAN GOODS

Lenine then turned to the American policy toward Russia.

"I told Americans, Colonel Robbins among them, in 1918, that it was to the interest of the United States to be friendly with Soviet Russia," he said. "As long ago as that I pointed out the desirability of commercial relations both from our viewpoint and the viewpoint of Americans. We offered concessions to American capital. American business men now arriving in Moscow agree with us."

"Outside of political questions, the simple fact remains that America needs raw materials and we need American goods. American capitalists know perfectly well what they want. They see coming a struggle with the Japanese for domination of the Pacific. They realize that America must soon challenge England for supremacy in the world's markets."

"Whether they like it or not, Soviet Russia is a great power."

"After three years of blockade and countless revolutions, military intervention and the Polish war, Soviet Russia is stronger than ever. America will gain nothing for herself by President Wilson's virtuous refusal to deal with us because our government does not suit his taste."

"Leaders of the Republican party seem to realize that the period of isolation from European affairs is past. It is evident that the country cannot play such a part without utilizing the immense unexploited reservoir of raw materials offered by Soviet Russia. And, in turn, Soviet Russia can purchase unlimited quantities of manufactured goods."

CALLS RUSSIA SOLVENT

"After the great war Soviet Russia remains the only solvent European country," said Colby (the American Secretary of State) tells the government. We will not keep our promises. But we call to our mind should weigh his words cautiously. He is not able to cite a single instance where we have failed in carrying out our obligations."

"And what about William Bullitt? Didn't he bring out obligations of the American government? Didn't John Maynard Keynes, an authority in economics of the war, and others who were not Bolsheviks, give an estimate of Mr. Wilson's obligations?"

Bullitt was a member of the American delegation to the peace conference. He went to Russia and made an investigation with results that were favorable to the Soviet regime. Later Bullitt said that President Wilson had refused to accept his report.

John M. Keynes, who was a member of the British delegation to the peace conference, afterward wrote a book criticizing the peace treaty for what he termed its harshness. He expressed fears of a complete European collapse because of the economic and financial terms imposed by the treaty.

California Property Gains Half Billion

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 14.—The value of the taxable property in California for 1920 totals $4,555,455,447, according to a report by State Controller John S. Chambers. Property value in 1919 was $4,067,432,918.

GASOLINE BOMB PROVED MYTH

Although there were evidences of an effort to burn the home of William Williamson, at 1515 Grove street Tuesday night, the fire was not caused by a gasoline bomb, according to the theory expressed to-day by Richard McSorley, Oakland police arson expert.

McSorley declares that an exhaustive examination was made of the premises, and while the uniform manner in which several of the rooms were burned would indicate the deliberate soaking of the walls with inflammable fluid, there were no evidences of an explosion. Early reports of a heavy explosion were greatly exaggerated, he says.

The crash, said to have been heard by a number of residents in the house and in the near vicinity, was probably the fall of a china closet, the police believe.

According to an estimate the damage is $4000 to $5000, which is more than the insurance carried.

Officers also said that the "mysterious men" seen running near the scene of the fire were coming toward it in order to obtain a better view, and were not fleeing.

Women Argue Merits of Proposed Law

Mrs. Gussie Stewart, attorney and clubwoman, and Miss Martha Jams, secretary of the Women's Legislative Council, last night debated the merits and defects of the community property amendment which will be voted on at the November election.

Miss Jams spoke in the affirmative and told how the law is expected to improve the present statute which has to do with testamentary disposition of community property. Mrs. Stewart in opposing the bill said that no law could change an important phase of property titles without upsetting all related laws, and said that such had been the case with a similar bill in the state of Washington. The debate was held at the W. C. A. auditorium.

UNTIL Simmons Company brought out these beautiful Metal Beds, built for sleep—a woman never had much choice in selecting a bed.

Either a wooden bed to match the rest of the furniture. Looks very well, but soon creaks at the joints and insanitary into the bargain.

Or a metal bed of the old "gas pipe" type—sanitary, no doubt, if one does not mind its looks and its trick of rattling just when one is about to drop off to sleep.

Never a bed scientifically built for sleep!

Now, however, you have a wide choice in Simmons Metal Beds—all built for sleep.

From the wide variety of Simmons Period designs you may choose the special beds which make the strongest appeal to your tastes and needs.

Special Simmons construction. When closed as above, 26 inches wide. By pulling on lower frame, bed opens as shown in sketch—full width, 4 feet 3 inches. Made of Simmons seamless square tubing. Oakland Man Made U. P. E. C. President Antonio Raulino of Oakland was elected president of the U. P. E. C. at a convention of that order in Sacramento, according to advices from the capital city today. The organization is a large Portuguese fraternity.

Nominations for other officers were practically confined to residents of the city of Oakland and immediate vicinity.

They were: Manuel S. Soares, Oakland, vice-president; N. Fraga, San Leandro, secretary; J. G. Mattos, Jr., Centerville, treasurer; Frank V. Hethel, Hayward, master of ceremonies.

The convention was completing plans this morning for the nomination of officers of Inner and Outer Guard and Medical Examiner, on which votes will be taken tonight.

Port Authorities of Coast in Convention

SEATTLE, Oct. 14.—With delegates from virtually every coast port attending the annual convention of Pacific Coast Association of Port Authorities opened here today with Thomas S. Lippy, chairman of the Seattle port commission, presiding. Ports represented are Portland, Astoria, Eureka, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland, San Diego, Aberdeen, Tacoma, Everett, Bellingham, Victoria and Vancouver, B. C.

John H. McCallum, president of the state board of harbor commissioners at San Francisco, read a paper today on "Establishment of Uniform Policies, and in so far as possible, uniform charges at publicly owned and controlled ports of the Pacific coast." Discussion on this was led by F. I. Randall of Portland.

State Odd Fellows Visit Historic Spots

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 14.—Business sessions were suspended yesterday at the annual encampment of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of California, and the delegates went by automobile to Placerville and Colima to visit the spot where gold was first discovered in California, and other points of historic interest.

On return to Sacramento, competitive maneuvers by patriars militantly drill squads featured the evening. Teams from Fresno, San Francisco, Portland, Berkeley, Stockton and Santa Rosa participated.

He — and his father before him — have cut fine clothes for men

With nimble fingers and skillful blades . . . trained to their work by two generations of hand cutting . . . this genial, able worker shears into four yards of virgin wool the first style lines of a Foreman & Clark $35 suit.

This actual photograph, snapped (not posed) in our big New York tailor shops, shows the type of self-respecting craftsmen who perform the most important step in making any suit of clothes: cutting the fabric.

Not all the hand cutters in our wholesale tailor shops can boast so many years' experience, but every one is a master cutter, shearing true to the careful lines of real style.

Men such as these are not attracted by employment which ends when the season ends. Only steady, year-round production (made possible by year-round sales in our own coast-to-coast stores) could bring to our big tailor shops so high a calibre of workmen.

Thousands of suits and overcoats are here to choose from.

Cost plus profit—equals price. We drop the bottom out of costs, and cut the top off of profit. In our own big wholesale tailor shops, F & C clothing is made at 53% the tailoring cost of the average high-grade maker, but with equal or greater care. Then we forget the middleman, the traveling salesman and the ground-floor rent collector. With one big jump the clothes arrive in our spacious, UPSTAIRS stores from coast to coast. By avoiding ground-floor rent and keeping our stores plain, without expensive frills of any kind, we lower costs of operation to little more than half the usual "overhead expense." The following prices allow us 56c average profit per garment. 56c—think of it! But it satisfies us because it satisfies our customers, and enables us to sell $10,000,000 worth of clothing every year!

Trade upstairs and Save $10

That is our slogan, but $15 or $20 is usually your saving, thanks to our five money-saving reasons:

Back of this actual photograph lies a story "with a wallop." A story of a long and winning fight against high clothing prices.

Working, working, year after year, building up an organization of skillful tailors here, another there, until the tremendous total of $10,000,000 worth of clothing yearly could be produced according to our rigid standards.

That has been our task in selling clothes to you direct from our own tailor shops, at prices which are less than half what you would pay these tailors if you ordered clothes from them yourself.

Because—back of the tailors is our tremendous woolen-buying power (controlling the output of several mills) and back of our business are five money-saving, common-sense principles that slice off costs here, shave them down there, and trim expense at every corner.

Read them at the right—we want you to realize fully that no other clothing business in the world is like this—in its way of doing business—or in its way of pricing all-wool suits!

1. Coast-to-coast chain of UPSTAIRS stores
2. $497,568.00 saved yearly in rent alone
3. Our own big wholesale tailor shops
4. Plain stores—no mahogany fixtures
5. Cash business—no credit losses

PROPOSAL IS AWAITED.

Oakland's prospects for a new station at Fourteenth and Franklin have been advanced considerably by the recent hearing before the railroad commission. It would appear apparent that the Commission recognizes that the city has a just grievance and that improvement of the railroad property should not be made dependent upon the earnings of the one line which has its terminal at this point but upon the financial showing of the entire Southern Pacific system.

In asking a continuance of sixty days the Southern Pacific has announced its purpose of framing a definite plan regarding the development of its property in the center of Oakland. It has agreed to meet in conference the engineers of the Railroad Commission and those of the city and has promised to present its proposal on December 13.

Those in Oakland who have been insisting that the old crossroads buildings be removed and that a modern structure be built at this most important corner are awaiting the proposal with a growing confidence that it is to mean the success of their efforts toward a much needed improvement.

NEW YORK BOMB FORGOTTEN?

Lack of results obtained in the investigation by Attorney-General Palmer and other federal officials into the recent bomb explosion in New York is emphasized by resolutions adopted by the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York.

This organization has called on the Government at Washington to appraise the outrage at its true value as a defiance of government, an act of war, and an initial step in a program the purpose of which is to destroy the Federal government itself. It asks the administration to accept the challenge and to vindicate the high record of the nation, to pursue the perpetrators of the crime relentlessly and to emphasize by a continuing and adequate program the vitality of the purposes and principles set forth in the preamble which called the Government into being: "to establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

After a week in which it was daily hinted that the Department of Justice was about to arrest those responsible for the New York outrage there has been a silencing of promise and an absence of results. Because there would appear to be a disposition on the part of certain officials to forget what happened in New York on September 16, or at least to neglect that decided action which should follow such an outrage, the resolutions of the New York chamber are pertinent and timely.

IMMIGRATION PROBLEM PRESSING.

The problem of immigration is again confronting the American people. The number of foreign born who are landing in the United States since the war is increasing to an alarming extent. The prewar rate of a million a year is likely soon to be exceeded. Ellis Island, with a capacity of but 5000 aliens per day, is congested and steamships carrying immigrants are compelled to wait in New York until accommodations are provided. The statement is made that one person in every twenty-five arriving at Ellis Island is afflicted with some kind of disease. Thousands come with only twenty-five dollars to begin the battle in America. Steamship companies in their greed for passage money are little concerned in whom they bring. Consular agents too frequently exercise insufficient care in protecting this country against the undesirable hordes.

In the history of America there has never been a period when there was greater need for exercising care in the admission of immigrants. This country has always welcomed the thrifty and industrious. To those willing to become citizens, respect our institutions, uphold our laws and show some appreciation of the privileges accorded, there is always room. There should be no welcome, however, for that class of undesirable who mistake liberty for license, subvert our laws and preach doctrines antagonistic to American institutions. No law can be made too stringent to bar this class. It has become necessary for the government to deport undesirable, but such drastic action would not be called for if greater care was exercised at the entrance gates. When Congress convenes one of the most pressing problems will relate to immigration.

PAN-SLAVISM REVIVED.

One of the bogies of former Kaiser Wilhelm II and the clique of Pan-Germans that constituted his most influential advisers was a Pan-Slavic confederation which might include Russia and the Slavic peoples of the Balkans. Russian statesmanship under the regime of the Czar was specially friendly to Pan-Slavism, and the German and Austrian aim was to disrupt Pan-Slavic sentiment and crush all hopes of its realization. It was the repressive acts of Austria-Hungary against the Slavic element of her empire, approved by Germany, that were the immediate cause of the outbreak of the war.

This brief prelude may lend special interest to the defensive alliance signed at Belgrade on August 15 between Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia. Dr. Benes, the Czech-Slovak foreign minister officiating for his country and Dr. Trumbich, a Croatian Yugoslav of Split, Dalmatia, signing as the foreign minister of the Serb-Croat-Slovene state. This new alliance seems to be unanimously hailed by the Yugoslav statesmen and press as a long step toward fulfillment of Pan-Slavism. And comment in the Italian press and in France indicates that the alignment is expected to have an important bearing upon the now long-standing dispute in the Adriatic area between Italy and the Yugoslavs.

The Yugoslavs, in discussing the Belgrade agreement, emphasize the German menace to the Czechs, while the latter lend their undivided support to the Yugoslavs in the Adriatic dispute. The Czechs have about eighty per cent of the factories of the defunct Austro-Hungarian empire and the Adriatic sea at Trieste and Fiume is the natural outlet for the product of these plants. Undoubtedly this practical situation has accentuated the natural feeling born of racial kinship for the appropriateness of such a defensive understanding between the two Slavic states in the Balkans as the Benes-Trumbich treaty.

Apparently the uncertainty as to the outcome of the pending presidential election in the United States has influenced the conclusion of this new alliance. The Yugoslav newspapers are fearful lest the United States withdraw absolutely from any interest in European affairs. They suspect Italy of deliberately prolonging the Adriatic controversy in the hope that no unfriendly influence against Italian contentions will be exerted at Washington. It was quite natural, therefore, that Yugoslav government and the unusually clever foreign minister, Dr. Trumbich, should prepare to cunctate the Italian maneuver, which is to call ultimately into effect the Anglo-French-Italian agreement of 1915.

By the new agreement the Czech-Slovaks are expected to stand with Yugoslavia against future Italian threats of aggression. There is also speculation as to the attitude Austria would be likely to assume, in view of the fact that she is still smarting under the loss of German Tyrol and a quarter million Austrian Germans whose territory was ceded to Italy to gratify the quite legitimate demand for a protective frontier on the north.

Nor is this all. Rumania has made and amicably received suggestions that she join the Slav alliance. And the Bulgarian prime minister, in a recent speech in the parliament at Sofia, made the significant statement: "Now that the nation has rid itself of its Germano-Austrian influences, our first duty towards our country is to heal the wounds caused by these degenerate influences to the detriment of Slavdom, and this I will immediately turn my attention to, because we, I—am a Yugoslav."

Recently THE TRIBUNE commented upon the new political and commercial policy of France in Slavic countries of the Balkans—a political policy founded upon close financial and business relations with Paris, accompanied by friendliness for the "Little Entente" composing the central Slavic bloc. The motive of this policy becomes rapidly clearer: a powerful Slav alliance in the Balkans will keep Germany too busy to endanger France and prevent the revival of the German dream of expansion southward, a pardoned Bulgaria and a restored Russia—especially in the south where General Wrangel now is operating.

France has moved surely and confidently in this new project of diplomacy and if she is troubled by the thought that her affiliation with Pan-Slavism may not harmonize with the older alliance with Italy and Great Britain she does not show it. Perhaps Italy's open friendliness with the Bolshevik crowd at Moscow influenced France to her new course.

NOTES and COMMENT

It is something out of the ordinary that three convicts, afloat on a raft in effort to escape, should "pray all night." As they were rescued they have a right to conclude that their prayers were answered, and following along the idea, they might correct their lives and atone for whatever it was they are in for.

The Oroville weather seer couldn't let well enough alone. It was raining along at intervals quite comfortably, and he came on with a prediction that "rains would continue." Then it cleared up at once.

There is quite a disposition on the part of some who fall afoul of the law to lay it to "politics." The election will be along in a few days, when the open season will be over. A "strong" explanation will then be necessary.

E. V. Lucas, the British author, relates that a bellboy of the San Francisco hotel where he put up offered to supply him a bottle of "Scotch" for $25. This is informing generally, and should be especially so to enforcers of the eighteenth amendment.

The Bolshevik collapse impends. It was inevitable, and its delay, this long must be considered a matter of surprise. A more enlightened people than the Russians would not have stood it for more than two years. In no other country has Russian been able to get a foothold.

"Poland obtains more territory than expected." Which must have operated to greatly enlarge her boundary, for that country has not been backward in this respect. She has been so insistent as to carry on two wars at one time to enforce her claims.

Grecoan history tells of mighty events resulting from trivial causes. None more unusual could have happened than the death of a king from a monkey bite. That is what is threatened in these present modern days.

Whatever else may be concluded from the Australian disinclination to hear John McCormack sing, their "roar" "God Save the King" at him indicates an intense loyalty to the "old country." It was said during the war that the colonies were more English than England.

Wine may be made in homes, according to a ruling by the internal revenue department. That will materially relieve a situation that has frequently been complained of—that of cutting off peoples who are accustomed to wine with their meals, as Italians and other Latins.

According to the News the Red Bluff baseball victory over the Oakland Elks led to disaster: "We have a feeling of resentment against that ball team of Oakland Elks that encouraged us to prolong the season two weeks and get mixed up with Colusa. The quitting was powerful good day we welcomed the Oaks."

Rural suggestion for a city emergency by the Redding Searchlight: "The city of Redding, with its strike at a San Francisco cathedral, it looks as if pending an adjustment of the difficulties, the congregation will have to do its singing by hand."

The Modesto News suggests a use for an invention: "An Italian has perfected scales that will weigh one one-thousandth of a milligram. Just what is needed to weigh profiteers' conscience."

The Sacramento Union indulges in a near reflection: "It was a Red-day. We earnestly hope that no one will be mean enough to suggest that he knows of no place where one would be more willing to sleep thirty days."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Francis J. Heney is one of the California nominees for presidential elector on the Democratic ticket. He now hails from Santa Monica. Francis has a lot of old scores to settle and this will give him a chance to lambast a whole lot of men and measure!—Byron Times

A recent trip over several California counties strengthens the writer's convictions that there is today nothing more encouraging in our social life than the way in which some hundreds of plucky men and women who run newspapers in small towns are helping the growth of their communities by fighting for better schools and roads, higher civic virtues, and also conservation of our natural resources. Some of these newspapers people are widows with children who "carry on" the work begun by the one that is gone.—Charles Shinn in Willows Journal.

Members of the Moose lodges of the country are endeavoring to have the national officers consider locating the erection of a Moose home for aged members in this county, twelve possible sites in the vicinity of Mt. Diablo and Martinez having been submitted. At the last meeting of the national organization $100,000 was appropriated for such a home in California, weather conditions of the Eastern states being considered too severe for the inmates.—Ray Point News

A. E. Caldwell, Columbia, has a unique yet very practical way of combatting the codling moth. He places old rags in the lower main branches of the trunk of the apple tree and the worms find the ideal place to form cocoons and pupate. Mr. Caldwell catches the rags every four or six weeks and boils them. This catches all the broods. At present one can find the codling moth worms working down the trunks looking for a favorable place to pupate for the winter.—Tuolumne Independent.

Mesopotamia

"Mesopotamia, Upper and Lower, vies with Egypt in claiming the honor of being the home of ancient civilization," says a bulletin of the National Geographic and ethnology, quoting from several communications concerning the land of Adam and Eve, where the British are rushing more troops because of native uprisings.

"Mesopotamia comprises the valleys of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers. Here flourished the Chaldean, Babylonian and Assyrian empires. The city of Bagdad, with all its glamour and mystery and magic, is in the heart of Mesopotamia."

"This was the richest land in the world, the granary of the ancients, yet, in spite of all that it has been, it today lies largely waste, the desert sands have encroached upon the fertile fields, while the clogged canals have turned other portions into swamps and marshes."

"What population there is—more than one million—is of Arab origin and the Arabic language is spoken throughout. There is, in fact, a very distinct dividing line between the Arabic and the Turkish-speaking portions of the former Ottoman Empire. This boundary corresponds with the line of the Bagdad Railway from the Mediterranean to the Persian Gulf. It is for the exploitation of this rich land of Mesopotamia that the famous Bagdad line was built."

"Mesopotamia is as fertile today as when it was the birthplace of human history and when the civilization that developed there had only the Nile Valley as a competitive field."

"Various factors delayed the inevitable reopening of the historic trade route across Syria and Mesopotamia. The advance of the Turk three Europe back upon itself to develop internally, and the discovery of America turned the attention of the peoples away from the spices and wealth of the East to the boundless resources and rich prizes of the West. The discovery of the sea route around Africa made available a safer passage to opulent India."

"Nowhere did trade follow the railway to a greater extent than along the Bagdad line, and in the spring of 1914 Aleppo was a thriving commercial center of German trade. At the hotels engineers and merchants crowded the dining-rooms and talked of a mighty future in Mesopotamia. That summer, war came, and the burning question of styles was rapidly succeeded by one of food enough to keep body and soul together."

"Just south of the Hittite ruins at Cartharish the Bagdad Railway crosses the muddy Euphrates and enters Mesopotamia. For the present the line to Bagdad and the Persian Gulf will monopolize the attention of the road-builders, but slowly and surely the iron pathways of commerce will extend north to the copper fields of Asia Minor and rich plains where Turkish tobacco is grown, up through Armenia to the Caucasus, across Persia to Turkestan, and across Afghanistan or Baluchistan to the gates of India."

HEALTH and HAPDINESS

Why Eggs Aren't Good for a Baby Until His Third Year

By Dr. LEONARD K. HIRSBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

An egg freshly laid, but not picked up at once on a warm day or from a warm place that was wet and dirty, or an egg kept in a warm kitchen is probably swarming with bacteria and unfit for food.

On the other hand, the wrongly despoiled cold-storage egg, hoarded for two-thirds of a year in a high-class cold-storage room, is excellent food.

In fine, the egg must be laid in a proper place and handled in transit as cold and cleanly as milk is, if its "freshness" is to be as good as that of the egg newly laid.

The porous egg shell permits bacteria to penetrate easily enough, but if the egg is laid in a moist place, the moisture dissolves much of the coating of the shell which would otherwise help to protect the egg.

Some cold-storage plants and refrigerators are not made properly to keep out certain flavors and odors. The shell of an egg easily allows cheese, garlic, onions and other unpleasant odors to penetrate.

The time which has elapsed between the laying of the egg and its arrival on your table is by no means a test of the egg's freshness.

The true test of freshness is the inner quality, and only when the shell is broken can this be discovered. An egg kept in a proper cold-storage plant from the moment it is laid will still be delicious, edible egg after many months.

The unpleasant limey taste which is found in stale eggs improperly kept may not be blamed on cold storage.

Hives, erythema, multififorme, sick stomachs and other symptoms which some persons who are super-sensitive to egg-white or egg-yolk suffer, is due to "anaphylaxis" or a curious susceptibility of their tissues to the egg proteins.

Babies, as a rule, ought not to be given eggs much before they are two years old.

Of course, in summer, when a few infants fed with bottles begin to have diarrhoea, cholera, dysentery and similar disorders of the bowels, albumen water made of egg-white is perhaps the best kind of aliment to tide even the youngest child over the crisis.

Eggs, then, although a wonderful and necessary ration for the tuberculous and the hard worker, are often not good for the indoor, easy-going individual.

PLAN TO DIVIDE BLIND AND DEAF WILL BE RENEWED

BERKELEY, Oct. 14.—With a plan to divide the California school for the deaf and the blind was taken last night by the board of directors. An appropriation of approximately $62,500 for a site for a new blind school, leaving the deaf pupils at the present location, will be asked at Sacramento on Monday of the state board of control by a delegation headed by President William Nat Friend of Oakland.

An appropriation for a new blind site was sought two years ago, but met with objections on the part of the alumni.

That there are approximately 200 deaf pupils at the school and but 100 blind is the main reason given by the board of directors for seeking to move the latter to another location.

A budget of approximately $520,000, or $240,000 more than that awarded two years ago, will be sought for the coming two years to meet increases in teachers' salaries and other needs of the school.

Confronted with petitions from two alumni organizations, the directors confirmed the appointment of John H. Dondoro to the position of supervisor of blind boys at the local institution.

One of the petitions from the Association of Self-Supporting Blind headed by Ernest Leslie declared Dondoro unfit for the position. A second petition from the Alumni Association of the blind school, of which Dondoro is president, commended Principal W. A. Caldwell for his appointment of Dondoro and urged that he be retained.

Clark to Fight Hard Battle for Freedom

Opening his battle for the acquittal of Milton Clark, the Texas land and hotel owner, charged with robbing the Hotel Whitecourt safe of jewels, valuables and money, Attorney Henry Davis this morning before Superior Judge James C. Quinn delayed the trial by insisting that his client was entitled to an entire panel of 41 from which to select a jury.

Judge Quinn took the matter under advisement. Deputy District Attorney Theodore Witschen argued that this was not necessary.

That a big legal battle will be fought for the freedom of the impecunious young hotel clerk, who married a wealthy widow in Minneapolis and has acquired a fortune since the alleged crime, was indicated by Attorney Davis.

General Survey of Oakland Housing Conditions Begun by Health Officials

A general housing survey of the City of Oakland showing sanitary conditions and every other element in the problem, will be begun immediately by the health department as the result of a communication from the New York health department co-operating with the United States

Governmental interest in the housing problem indicates that the day of commandeering the flivver for temporary accommodations or chartering a small houseboat in the 'why pay rent' campaign, is nearing its end. Conditions throughout the State are reported extremely acute, with scores of unique measures being taken by municipalities who have been unable to secure normal living quarters.

The investigation is country wide. Each city is expected to furnish full statistics concerning shortage of houses, overcrowding, unsanitary conditions, and suggested methods of bettering the condition.

"While there is a house shortage in Oakland," says Dr. Kirby Smith, "conditions here will not be found to be anything like they are in the East, and I expect to learn at the end that Oakland's situation is, indeed, comparatively good."

VIVACIOUS MAID MISSING; FOUL PLAY IS FEARED

Fears are entertained today for the safety of Gertrude Anderson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Anderson, 1130 Regent street, Alameda.

The young woman, described as unusually attractive and vivacious, has been missing from her home for several days. No concern was felt at first, as several days ago Miss Anderson gained the consent of her mother and father to visit friends at San Jose. She packed her suitcase and left home in a cheerful mood.

"I'll be back in a few days," she said, kissing her mother a smiling farewell.

Mrs. Anderson got into communication with the people at San Jose and learned that the young woman had never arrived.

Immediately the police were notified.

"Gertrude had no reason on earth for wishing to run away from home," said the mother. "She had no girlish romance that I know of, and her home life was happy and serene. I am afraid to think about her strange disappearance."

Boiler Permit Is Protested in Council

A protest against the installation of a new boiler at the Oakland Powder Company's plant, 476 Twelfth street, was changed into a protest against the whole plant this morning when neighbors appeared before the City Council and alleged that the plant blew off steam every fifteen minutes, day and night, and disturbed their slumbers. The property owners also asserted that the plant sends soot over their washing. The matter was laid over two weeks.

A resolution ordering the paving of Lagunitas avenue from Parry street southwest was passed, over the protest of property owners. The improvement of Arenal avenue from Sixty-third avenue to Havencourt was ordered. Improvement of Webster street for a block between Forty-ninth and Fiftieth streets was also ordered. The East Bay Water Company was permitted to install fourteen fire hydrants in various residence districts.

U. C. Students Build Big '12' On Hill to Aid Amendment

BERKELEY, Oct. 14.—Sixteen agricultural leaders of the state have signed a resolution calling upon the people of the state, especially the farmers, to vote 'yes' on Amendment No. 12 on November 2, and last night for the first time in history the big "C" on Charter Hill was painted in insignificance by a huge "A" erected on the hill.

All day yesterday sophomore classmen worked on the construction of the "12", building it from white beaver board. Working under supervision of J. H. Turner they built a complete 12 with figures 24 feet in height and decorated with electric lamps for night display.

At noon the girls of the sophomore class climbed the hill to where the students were at work and served them with basket lunches.

The signers to the resolution calling upon the farmers to vote for the amendment include representatives of practically every farmers' organization in the state. The list is as follows:

W. H. Walker, president California Farm Bureau Federation, Imperial; Richards, president Central California Goat Breeders' Association; Frank T. Sweet, president California Pear Growers' Association and vice-president California Grape Exchange; C. S. Frewen, California Dealers' Association; L. Crichton, president Associated Olive Growers of California; A. R. Weyhrer, representing alumni, University of California College of Agriculture; F. A. Seymour, assistant to the president, California Associated Raisin Company; Willis Lynch, president California Beekeepers' Co-operative Exchange; A. H. Quatman, president Glenn County Rice Growers' Association; W. H. Fleet, manager Rancho Seape, Ventura county; C. C. Teague, lemon grower, Santa Paula; O. W. Jarvis, Sacramento; George Collins, San Francisco; John P. McGowan, for the California State Veterinary Association; Sheridan W. Baker, Santa Rosa; Horace G. Keesling.

Officials Consider Utilities Measure

Further consideration to the proposed public utilities measure will be had this afternoon by the city attorneys of the various Eastbay cities, who meet at a late hour in City Attorney Hagun's office. Control over matters other than the water supply will be threshed out thoroughly by mayors and city attorneys before the contemplated statute is placed before the Legislature for passage.

It has already been agreed to give the head of the district no power to purchase properties, thus preventing him from binding the cities in possible ill advised contracts.

Creditors Seek Share in Compressor Patent

Suit to recover for creditors, the patent rights to "vane actuated air compressor" invented by Samuel Caldwell, was filed today in the Superior Court by Argentina Quillo, trustee of the estate in bankruptcy.

Mrs. Quillo, in the interests of the creditors, declares that prior to becoming a bankrupt, Caldwell transferred his title in the U. S. patent for the "fair compressor" to May Estia Caldwell. She asks that this transfer be set aside. The patent is said to be worth $600.

WOMAN DEFEATS FIREBUG EFFORT TO BURN HOME

Attempt to destroy the home of Mrs. H. H. Rhodes, 210 Sixteenth street, by firebug, failed. The recent "firebug" fire chargeable police inspectors believe, to a band of fire fiends.

The effort to fire Mrs. Rhodes' home failed when the perpetrators were surprised at their work just as one of them was applying a lighted match. Mrs. Rhodes' reports having seen at least two men.

Police investigation disclosed that crooks had been snared over the walls of the house on all sides. The front porch was spread thick with tar and an inflammable substance, resembling crude oil. A match set to any part of the house would have started a sudden and stubborn fire.

The baffling element of mystery in the case is the complete lack of an established motive. The inspectors believe it the work of crooks.

Stanford Will Play U. of S. C. Next Saturday

By J. E. THRASH.
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 14.—Coach Walter Powell will take twenty of his picked gridiron stars to Los Angeles next Saturday to battle the University of Southern California eleven. The Trojans are expected to have an extra strong team this season and will force Coach Powell to use the best material he has to stand a chance for a Cardinal victory. Forty men are reporting to practice every night with the varsity squad, and an announcement was made by Powell this morning that there will probably be no further cut of the squad this season.

Only light practices have been held the last two nights on account of the condition of the players following last week's game on a wet field. Scrimmage practice will be held again tonight, and tomorrow the Dempseys will go into action in practice against the freshman team.

The Cardinal team will not play at home again until it meets the University of Oregon on October 30. On October 22 the varsity and Santa Clara will go into action on the new Santa Clara turf.

Stanford freshmen will hold the center of attraction of the "Farm" next Saturday, when they will have their annual clash with the Davis Farm team.

Coach Seay is still experimenting with backfield material, but now believes that as things stand his proteges can give any team in their class a tough struggle.

Chameleon Chatter to Boost Receipts

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Flight fans here today began the expected clamor for a fight between George Dempsey and Georges Carpentier. Added to the desire to see the champion watched against the best available was the hankering to determine whether Carpentier really is the "chameleon" of the ring.

Carpentier earned the title of "chameleon" when his manager claimed the fighter changes his style according to conditions as the chameleon changes his color.

Carpentier will remain here until the end of the year at least, it was said today. The Dempsey forces were said to be eager for the meeting.

Junior Tennis Club Will Tackle Scouts

Concluding their schedule for the season, the Central Oakland Junior Tennis club will meet the Piedmont Boy Scouts Tennis team Saturday morning at Bella Vista park, where the singles and four doubles matches will be decided.

The tournament will be the last of an unusually successful season as the club has met only once in eight inter-club matches and defeated the Junior Olympic club and the Sutter club of Sacramento.

The following boys will represent the Oakland club: Heinie Driscoll, Stanley Altmeyer, Mike Lusk, Kjer, Billy Reed, Cranston Holman and Eddie Ogden.

Colima Defeats Young George in L. A. Ring

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—Before 5000 fans who crowded the Vernon ball park here last night, Bert Colima, Whittier, and Young George Los Angeles, staged a simultaneous shadow boxing contest for the coast heavyweight championship.

Colima was given the decision since he landed a few lousy blows in the third and fourth rounds. The fight was a distinct disappointment to the big, blubbery fans.

Ernie Goetzman drew with George Spencer after pulling up a big leg in the first two rounds. Spencer came back strong in the last two cantos.

Sailor Joe Fisher and Harry Gattine slashed through four fast rounds to a draw. Kid Wagner stopped Joe Rooney in two rounds.

VALLEJO GAME POSTPONED.
The Vallejo colored Athletics and the Blue baseball club also of this city, will settle their diamond dispute at Beach Park on Sunday, October 24. The game was scheduled to pay last Sunday but the game was called off on account of the poor condition of the grounds.

Tad's Tid Bits

By TAD.
(Written for International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—As George Cohan says, "T. T. Barnum had the right idea." The more you trim a sucker the better he likes it.

New York and New Jersey saps paid more than $300,000 to see Carpentier, the French wonder man, tip over an old, founded boxer-like Levinsky, in four rounds.

Any guy who knows his right shoe from his left could figure that Carpentier would win in a punch or two. The Frenchman did. He had nothing in front of him to fear. He could do as he pleased. The punching bag before the Frenchman wasn't even life-like. It did not bounce back worth a darn.

Carpentier had everything his own way and showed his speed, his fighting ability, his foot work and his punch. He did it well, we'll admit that.

But, he can't be can fight, because he had nothing to fight with. There was no competition.

Levinsky went in to get the short end and that's just what he got. He knew he was in for a licking and he got that, too.

O. HENDY Story a day

Master of Arts

Copyright, 1920, by Doubleday, Page & Co. Published by special arrangement with the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

The Casa Morena, although only one story in height, was a building of brown stone, luxurious as a palace in its interior. It stood on a low hill in a walled garden of splendid tropical flora at the upper edge of Corralito. The next day the President's carriage came again for the artist. Keogh went out for a walk along the beach, where he and his "picture boy" were now familiar sights. When he returned to the hotel White was sitting in a steam-chair on the balcony.

"Well," said Keogh, "did you and the Nibs decide on the kind of a chronicle he wants?"

White got up and walked back and forth on the balcony a few times. Then he stopped and laughed merrily. His face was flushed, and his eyes were bright with a kind of gleam.

"Look here, Billy," he said, somewhat roughly, "when you first came to me in my studio and mentioned a picture, I thought you wanted a smashed Oats or a Hair Tonic poster painted on a range of mountains or the side of a continent. Well, either of those jobs would have been Art in its highest form compared to the one you've steered me against. I can't paint that picture, Billy. You've got to let me try to tell you what that barbarian wants. He had it all planned out and even a sketch made of his idea. The old boy doesn't draw badly at all. But, my goodness, Art listen to the monstrosity he expects me to paint. He wants him-half in the center of the canvas, of course. He is to be painted as Jupiter sitting on Olympus, with the clouds at his feet. At one side of him stands George Washington, in full regimental dress, with his hand on the president's shoulder. An angel with outstretched wings hovers overhead, and is placing a laurel wreath on the president's head, crowning him—Queen of the West, I suppose. In the background is a cannon, more angels and soldiers. The man who would paint that picture would have to have the soul of White, with an uneasy laugh. "Some of us fellows who try to paint have big notions about Art. I wanted to paint a picture some day that people would stand before and forget that it was made of paint. I wanted it to creep into their heads like a bar of music and mushroom there like a soft bulb. And I wanted 'em to go away and ask, 'What else has he done?' And I didn't want 'em to find a thing; not a portrait nor a magazine cover nor an illustration nor a drawing of a girl—nothing but the picture. That's why I've lived on fried sausages, and tried to keep true to myself. I persuaded myself to do this portrait for the chance it might give me to study abroad. But this howling, screaming caricature! Good Lord! can't you see now it is?"

"Sure," said Keogh, as tenderly as he would have spoken to a child, and he laid a long forefinger on White's knee. "I see. It's bad to have your art all slugged up like that. I know. You wanted to paint a big thing like the panorama of the battle of Gettysburg. But let me ask you a little: mental stretch to consider. Up to date we're out $250 on this scheme. Our capital took every cent both of us could raise. We've got about enough left to get back to New York on. I need my share of that ten thousand. I want to work a copper deal in Idaho, and make a hundred thousand. That's the business end of the thing. Come down off your art perch, Carry, and let's land that hundred of dollars."

"Billy," said White, with an effort, "I'll try. I won't say I'll do it, but I'll try. I'll go to it, and put it through if I can."

"That's business," said Keogh, heartily. "Good boy. Now, here's another thing—rush that picture—crowd it through as quick as you can. Get a couple of boys to help you mix the paint if necessary. I've picked up some pointers around town. The people here are beginning to get sick of Mr. President. They say he's been too free with concessions, and they're sick of his saying he'll make a difference with England to sell out the country. If you want to give Jupiter a pair of epaulettes and a sword, and kind of work the clouds around to look like a blackberry patch, it wouldn't make such a battle scene. Why, if we hadn't already settled on the price, he ought to pay an extra thousand for Washington. And the angel ought to sing it five hundred."

"You don't understand, Billy," said

Muerte al traidor!" were the words they seemed to form.

"Listen to that!" exclaimed White, bitterly. "I'll show you Spanish. They're shouting, 'Down with the traitor!' I heard them before. I'll show you that. The picture had to go."

"Down with the black fool!" said Keogh, with fiery emphasis. "You tear up ten thousand dollars like an old rag because the way you've spread on five dollars worth of paint hurts your conscience. Next time I pick a side-partner in a scheme the man has got to go before a notary and swear he never heard the word 'ideal' mentioned."

Keogh strode from the room, white-hot. White paid little attention to his resentment. The scorn of Billy Keogh seemed a trifling thing beside the grater self-scorn he had escaped. The cause of this demonstration of displeasure was the presence in the crowd of a big pink-checked Englishman, who, it was said, was an agent of his government come to clinch the bargain by which the president placed his people in the hands of a foreign power. It was charged that not only had he given away priceless concessions but that the public debt was to be transferred into the hands of the English and the custom-houses turned over to them as a guarantee. The long-enduring people had determined to make their protest felt.

On that night in Corralito and in other towns, their fire found vent. Yelling mobs, mercurial but dangerous, roamed the streets. They overthrew the great bronze statue of the president that stood in the center of the plaza, and hacked it to shapely pieces. They tore from public buildings the tablets that there proclaimed the glory of the "Illustrious Liberator." His pictures in the government office were smashed. The mobs even attacked the Casa Morena, but were driven away by the military, which remained faithful to the executive. All the night terror reigned.

The greatness of Losada was shown by the fact that by noon the next day order was restored, and he was still absolute. He issued proclamations denying positively that any negotiations of any kind had been entered into with England. Sir Stafford Northcote, also declared in placards and in public print that his presence there had no international significance. He was a traveler without result. In fact (so he stated), he had not even spoken with the president nor been in his presence since his arrival.

During this disturbance, White was preparing for his homeward voyage in the steamship that was to sail within two or three days. About noon, Keogh, the restless, took his camera out with the hope of spending the lagging hours. The town was now as quiet as if peace had never departed from her perch on the red-tiled roofs.

About the middle of the afternoon Keogh hurried back to the hotel with something decidedly special in his Wings of the morning!

Isn't it great, first thing in the morning, to have so much joy at so little cost?

Isn't it great to enjoy the delightful fragrance and the rich smooth taste of a really good cup of coffee?

Isn't it great to be invigorated and set up for the day's work?

Really fine coffee does all these things and costs about the same per cup as common coffee—a pound of full-flavored coffee makes so many cups.

Schilling Coffee is one of those full-flavored fine coffees, and the vacuum-sealed tin brings all that fine and full flavor to your breakfast table.

Your money back if you want it.

There's always room at the top

That's why Spur Cigarettes have won. There are plenty of cigarettes of merit, some claiming one pleasing feature, some another. But there was room—at the top—for a still better cigarette—one that had all the goodness of the others and then some.

Spur's new blend of choicest Oriental and American tobaccos gives greater richness, aroma and mildness than you thought a cigarette could have. Spur's crimped, not pasted, seam makes a longer, lasting cigarette.

air. He retired to the little room where he developed his pictures.

Later on he came out to White on the balcony with a luminous, grim, predatory smile on his face.

"Do you know what that is?" he asked, holding up a 4x6 photograph mounted on cardboard.

"Snap-shot of a señorita sitting in the sand—allegation unintentional, guessed White.

"Wrong," said Keogh with shining eyes. "It's a slung-shot. It's a can of dynamite. It's a gold mine. It's a sight-draft on our president man for twenty thousand dollars—yes sir—twenty thousand dollars this time, and no spoiling the picture. No ethics of art in the way 'Art'! You with your smelly little tubes. I've got you skinned to death with a kidder. Take a look at that."

White took the picture in his hand and gave a long whistle.

"Jove!" he exclaimed, "but wouldn't that stir up a row in town if you let it be seen? How in the world did you get it, Billy?"

"You know that high wall around the president man's back garden? I was up there trying to get a bird's-eye view of the town. I happened to notice a chick in the wall where the women and a lot of plaster had slid out. Think I'll take a peep through to see how Mr. President's cabbage is growing. The first thing I saw was him and this Sir Englishman sitting at a little table about twenty feet away. They had the table all spread over with documents, and they were hunching over them as thick as two pirates. There was a nice corner of the garden, all private and shady with palms and orange trees, and they had a pair of champagne and by handy in the grass. I knew then was the time for me to make my big hit in Art. So I raised the machine up to the crack and pressed the button. Just as I did so them old boys shook hands on the picture. They took that way in the picture."

Keogh put on his coat and hat.

"What are you going to do with it?" asked White.

"Me," said Keogh in a hurt tone. "Why, I'm going to tie a pink-ribbon to it and hang it on the wall—of course I'm surprised at you. But while I'm out you just try to figure out what ginger-cake potatoes would be most likely to want to buy this work of art for his private collection—just to keep it out of circulation."

The sunset was reddening the tops of the occupants. Billy Keogh came back from Casa Morena. He nodded to the artist's questioning gaze, and lay down on a cot with his hands under the neck of his head.

"I saw him. He paid the money like a little man. They didn't want to let me in at first. I told 'em I was important. Yes, that president man is on the plenty-table list. He's got a beautiful business system about the way he uses his brains. All I had to do was to hold up the photograph so he could see it, and name the price. He just smiled and walked over to a safe and got the cash. Twenty-one thousand-dollar brand-new United States Treasury notes he laid on the table. Like I'd pay out a dollar and a quarter. Fine notes too—they cracked with a sound like burning the brush off a ten-acre lot."

"Let's try the feel of one," said White, curiously. "I never saw a thousand-dollar bill." Keogh did not immediately respond.

"Carry," he said, in an absent-minded way, "you think a heap of your art, don't you?"

"More," said White, "than has been for the financial good of myself and my friends."

"Thought you were a fool the other day," went on Keogh, quietly, "and I'm not sure now that you wasn't. But if you was so art, I've been in some Carry, but I was always managed to scramble, fair, and match my brains and capital against the other fellow's. But when it comes to—well, when you've got the other fellow enched and the screws on him, and he's got to put up with it, it don't strike me as being a man's game. They've got a name for it, you know; it's—confound you, don't you

WIZARD RUBINI READY FOR TRIBUNE EXHIBITION

NEW NAMES ADDED TO COMMITTEE IN CHARGE OF ODD EXPERIMENT

Rubini's demonstration was wonderful. It is apparent that he possesses powers of mind which will undoubtedly be developed by mankind in the future and which will open vistas of promise.

This was the expression of Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco upon the demonstration of his ability given by Eugene de Rubini, the young telepathist and psychologist who, Saturday morning, at the Hotel Oakland and then in automobiles on the street, will submit to a test of his powers.

Mayor Rolph's view is echoed in various ways by the others who saw him.

The rapidity with which Rubini has gained attention and credence since he came to the United States is evidence of the sincerity of his purpose and methods.

GIET DEVELOPED ABROAD

Before the European war the boyish Czechoslovak, then a subject of the Austrian crown, developed his gift and attracted attention in Vienna, Budapest, Prague, Krakow and other cities which he visited and where he was the object of attention of scientific men. Early in the war, during which he, with all his Czech compatriots, was impressed into military service, he was first on the Russian front and then two years and a half in a Russian prison camp.

During this long period he studied his gift, and because medical attention was scanty, assisted fellow prisoners, using his psychology with success in this work. When he escaped from a prison camp he succeeded in making his way to Holland, where he continued his demonstrations and study, making a great sensation in Rotterdam and Amsterdam. He was married in Holland.

Last year he determined to visit America, which he considers a land of psychological promise, and made his way through the Orient, arriving in San Francisco in June on the Korea Maru from Yokohama.

FINDS HIDDEN PAPERS.

Since his arrival de Rubini has been perfecting his English which was slight and making tests. His first interest test which brought him into prominence was when he visited the San Francisco city hall, and there, in a building he had never entered before, found papers hidden at the instance of the mayor, and did other similar mental feats.

His big open test in San Francisco followed shortly afterward. Among other excursions he has made while studying in San Francisco was one already noted to Santa Clara university, which had unusual results, in that he faced laboratory tests before an opening skeptical committee.

The chief tests he made were to submit to mental direction under which he went to the school library, took down a book and picked out certain pages and lines as directed by his testers. He also discovered the key to a strong box, then the box, and finally opened the box.

COMMITTEE ENLARGED.

Including new names of those who have accepted invitations to meet de Rubini Saturday and make the test upon him, the citizens' committee now stands:

J. F. Lynch, chief of police.

Ezra W. Decote, district attorney.

A. F. St. Sure, judge of superior court.

Joseph E. Caine, managing director of the chamber of commerce.

PILGRIM DAYS TO BE EXHIBITED AT LAKESIDE PARK

In recognition of the work of the Pilgrim Fathers, the city of Oakland will celebrate with four special events during October and December.

The program, announced today by Superintendent of Recreation J. B. Nash, is as follows:

October 15, 1920, 3 P. M.—Indian and Pioneer Plays, stories and games. On lawns between the Museum and Municipal Boat House, 14th and Oak streets.

October 30, 1920, 8:15 P. M.—Municipal Auditorium, Pageant of Progress.

October 31, 1920, 3:15 P. M.—Municipal Auditorium, Pageant of Progress.

December 21, 1920—Programs to be arranged by individual schools and organizations on or near this date.

Indian songs, tableaux and exercises of Pilgrim Father days will feature the exhibition tomorrow afternoon by the children of Oakland schools on the lawn at Lakeside park.

"Finding the Mayflowers" by girls from Mosswood playground will open the program, and an interpretation of life in Plymouth during the birth of the nation will be given.

Under the direction of Miss Sarah Preble who has been a student of Indian life for many years and who is an authority on the customs and legends of California tribes, local Camp Fire girls will sing Indian Planting Dance, a sacred ceremony performed by Indian women to insure an abundant crop. A chorus of Camp Fire girls will sing Indian songs that have been arranged by Miss Preble.

"Stool Ball," and other games with which the Puritan children amused themselves 300 years ago, will be played by boys and girls, along with "Canoe Tag," "quick-eight," and a number of Indian games.

At the conclusion the children and adult spectators will gather into small groups to listen to Indian legends and tales of the Pilgrims in New England by members of the recreation department. Co-operating with the director of the museum, talks will be given on the uses and meaning of the Indian curios that form a large part of the collection in the museum. Cooking and house-keeping in early New England will also be explained before the colonial kitchen.

The activities of the afternoon have been arranged by the recreation department as a forerunner of the great "Pageant of Progress," which will be given October 30 and 31 at the auditorium to celebrate the Pilgrim tercentenary.

Mount McKinley is dead. He was Rev. Hudson Stuck, arch deacon of the Yukon. Word of his death at Fort Yukon, Alaska, was received here today by Dr. John Wood, secretary of the Protestant Episcopal church.

Oakland Teachers Granted Higher Salaries; May Mean School Time Curtailment

A general raise in Oakland teachers' salaries, giving elementary teachers $2640 per annum and high school instructors $2400, was granted last night by the committee of the whole of the Board of Education in the presence of more than fifty educators.

It is admitted by the superintendent of schools that this may mean a curtailment of school time, in order to divert the money to salaries, but he believes that the year will not be as short as last year.

In asking the raise, the delegation of teachers pointed to twenty items of regular school expenses where cuts were suggested in order to divert the money to teachers' salaries.

The Board of Education pointed to its financial stringency this year, and the fact that it asked $1,250,000 additional this year and only received $550,000. The teachers replied that by rigid economy this money can be stretched to the limit.

The new salary is a gain of about $240 per annum in salary to the average elementary teachers. The teachers had campaigned for $420.

Mrs. McNamara to Be Sentenced on Friday

Mrs. Theresa McNamara, found guilty by a jury of stealing a vanity bag from the Berkeley Tennis Club dressing room, will be sentenced Friday.

Marie Bailey, her "pal" and alleged to be her sister, pleaded guilty and will probably be granted probation. On the stand Miss Bailey took most of the blame for stealing the vanity bag.

Prof. Neuhaus Will Lecture On Artists

Professor Eugen Neuhaus of the University of California and of Mills College, will give a series of lectures in the Paul Elder Gallery in San Francisco on the "Ideals of Painting" with particular reference to the Exhibition of Old Masters that is to be held at the Palace of Fine Arts.

The first lecture on "The Ideals of the Italian and Spanish Schools" will be given Wednesday afternoon, October 20, at 2:30 o'clock. This will be followed in subsequent weeks by lectures on the Flemish and Dutch Schools and on the French and English Schools.

DREAM PREVENTS GIRL'S SUICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—Elizabeth Norrie, 15 years old, tried to commit suicide this morning by gas asphyxiation, but was saved by her aunt, Mrs. N. S. Hand, who had dreamed that her niece had been contemplating suicide.

According to Mrs. Hand, she detected the odor of gas issuing from a room in her home at 301 Haight street, and this coupled with the absence of the girl, led to an investigation which resulted in Mrs. Hand's finding the unconscious body of her niece lying on the floor of the room. The girl was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital, where physicians said her chances of recovery were good.
